

Haleh: The fifth great molecule: mouse.

Anna: water isn't good for lube

Haleh: Isn't that what we learned in bio today?

Q: what forms of energy are in this diagram?

Haleh: Children.

*5 min later*

Dr. Schvell: Heat is a disordered form of energy.

Haleh: Just like children.

Haleh: Rice is the most nice and right of all the grains.

Dr. Schivell: What causes molecular damage?

Anna: My Saturday nights.

Haleh: [points at protein spaghetti for like 15 seconds]

Haleh, weakly: It's a mess

Haleh: I have the urge to do the macarena whenever she starts speaking.

Haleh, showing a pic of a baby giraffe: Look, gettin' licked

Looking each other dead in the eye, speaking in unison: A square is not a rhombus.

Anna: There's a church in my hearthome city.

Haleh: And they worship me.

Anna: No, they don't.

Haleh: WHY NOT?!

Haleh: I'd name my kid Seamie because it's cute, but I'd name your kids Beowulf and Holland.

Haleh: More chromosomes, more power.

Haleh: [gasps, produces peanut butter chocolate cups from pocket]

Haleh: I have a good thumb waist.
